Lost: Purses, Scarves, Pens . . .

ALL OF THE items in the picture above are lost (except Dean of Students' office secretaries Mary Ann Burde and Sharon Hahlweg, which we're not sure about). Featured are things ranging from umbrellas to key cases to glasses to watches to gloves to books to car handles to just about anything else you can name. Most of the lost items are in excellent condition, but nobody has bothered to claim them, despite their value. Several days ago a purse containing $125 was turned in, according to Dean of Students Earnest Oppermann. The girl didn't even know she had lost it.

Movie On Africa Set For Convos

By Lois Piotter

Next week's convocations, the last of the semester, will be devoted to the showing of the film "Come Back Africa."

This film is unique inasmuch as it employs no professional actors and was filmed entirely in South Africa. It was originally made under the pretense that it was a musical in order to get by government officials. Today all but one of the participants in the film have been jailed by the South African government.

Natives Play Roles

Negroes were taken off the streets in order to play different roles. Not even the members of the cast knew what the plot was, for their own protection.

Although this film was produced in secret, it looks deep into the nightmare and social desperation of a man and a people. Dramatically, the end of the film is false, but statistically it is true. Rape and murder are commonplace in South Africa's black ghettos.

Film Avoids Worst

The film is extremely kind to the white man and tries desperately to avoid much of the filth and life in the many slums of Johannesburg.

However, enough is shown to deeply shock the average, complacent American, who can't or won't believe that such conditions still exist in a century which is supposed to be so very progressive and advanced.

Picture Is True

The candid-camera work shown in the film gives the viewer the true picture of the Negro population with an expert skill. The only place where the director experienced some difficulty was in the acting.

As was mentioned before, all participants were amateurs, and this fact coupled with the fact that they may have felt awkward speaking English accounts for this difficulty.

Film Adds To Book

This film can be directly related to the all-campus book, "Cry, The Beloved Country," which also dealt with the problems existing in present-day South Africa.

This is the first time that "Come Back Africa" has been shown in Iowa. It has previously been shown at such schools as Harvard and Yale.

Picture Is Authentic

"Come Back Africa" is definitely an experimental type of motion picture and may not come up to the standards of a top Hollywood film. What is more important, however, is the fact that it gives a more authentic picture of what is really going on in Africa than any professional acting ever could.

First half of the film will be shown at Tuesday's convo, and the second will be shown on Thursday.

Two Topics Picked

Astronomy and human relations will be the convo topics for next semester.

The program is now being set up by Convocations Committee, with Dr. James Fritschel, Music Department, chairman.

The first block of convos will deal with the general topic of astronomy. Under this topic a film will be shown, an astronomer from the University of Indiana will speak and Dr. Clifford Hanson of the Wartburg faculty will address the convocation on the subject of understanding our universe and its implication on our faith.

The second block of convos will be concerned with human relations and will feature an expert on the Congo from Washington University, St. Louis.

A Jewish rabbi from Drake University and Dr. George Forell from the University of Iowa School of Religion will also speak under the topic of human relations.

A week in February will be devoted to Spiritual Emphasis Week. Convocations for the remainder of the year will be announced after a definite schedule is set up.

Chinese Art On Exhibit

Seventeen Chinese paintings done in the old, traditional style will be on exhibition in the Union, Library and Fine Arts Center until Monday.

They were painted by students and faculty members of New Asia College, Hong Kong.

Depicting either scenery or flowers, the paintings are first mounted on silk, and the silk is then mounted on paper. This is the traditional method of mounting, according to Miss Helen Wright, head of the Wartburg Art Department.

Style Is Suggestive

She said that the paintings are done in Caligraphic style, in which the subject is suggested rather than described. Subjects are usually painted in the same sketchy manner.

For example, students of this style learn to paint a leaf and then paint all leaves in that way.

One of the paintings depicting a peony is so simply done, according to Miss Wright, that it seems like a modern American painting. It is almost abstract.

WUS Provides Art

The exhibition is sponsored by the United Committee of World Universities Service to which Wartburg contributes through Campus Chest. WUS is a link between colleges in all parts of the world, and it provides financial assistance to promote the understanding of various cultures.

From Wartburg the paintings will go east to Springfield College, Springfield, Mass.

Merritt Bomhoff Filling New Spot

Pastor Merritt Bomhoff, Flanagan, Ill., has been hired as Assistant to the President in Development and Public Relations, according to Pres. C. H. Becker.

Pastor Bomhoff has bought a house on the east side of Waverly and will be moving in Monday.

The new position was approved by the Board of Regents at its fall meeting Nov. 14. Duties of the office will be the supervision and coordination of development and will deal mainly with legacies, foundation grants and fund fulfillment.

Film Set Tonight

"Hit the Deck," tonight's campus movie, is being sponsored by Tri-Beta, national biology honor society. Beginning at 7:30 in the Chapel-auditorium, it stars Jane Powell, Tony Martin, Debbie Reynolds and Walter Pidgeon.

FROM ISRAEL NATIONAL OPERA

Soprano Stars Tomorrow

Shoshana Shoshan, leading soprano of the Israel National Opera, will appear tomorrow night at 8 in the Chapel-auditorium as a special addition to the Artist Series.

Her program will feature a variety of operatic music, including such composers as Handel, Pergolesi, Mozart, Donizette, Schubert and Gabriel Faure. Manuel de Falla's Spanish Song cycle and several pieces from the Israeli Song of Songs are also included.

Many Languages Included

Miss Shoshan will also present music of her native land, which is seeking a foothold in this generation. It is based lyrically on the Song of Solomon, with influences of Arabic, Hebraic, Spanish and Oriental.

After attracting world attention as the Israel National Opera's leading soprano, she followed with a series of concert and radio appearances which gave her national prominence.

Opera Star Impressed

Jan Peerce, Metropolitan Opera star, heard Miss Shoshan sing in Israel and urged her to come to America. After arriving in New York, she appeared on the major television network shows and made personal appearances in the United States and Canada.

In addition to her native Hebrew and English languages, she speaks German, Polish and some Italian and French. She is in demand as a leading interpreter of Israeli art and folk songs.

Name Means 'Rose'

Her real first name is Shoshana which means "Rose" in Hebrew as does her legaliy adopted last name.

Miss Shoshan

The reason that Miss Shoshana is presented as a special Artist Series is because her concert was arranged after the regular five Series had been set.

Alumni Board Meets Wed.

Forty alumni will be on campus next Wednesday for a joint meeting of alumni board members, class agents and the student body president and vice president.

Alumni will come from places as far away as Baltimore, San Francisco and Minneapolis, according to Alumni Director Bob Gremmels. This will be mainly an idea session, but a five-year budget plan will be approved and presented to the Board of Regents on Friday.

The five-year budget plan considers every aspect of the budget, including faculty salaries, enrollment of students, facilities and teachers for the increasing enrollment.

According to Gremmels, the group will discuss the plan which is to determine just who our alumni are and to solicit contributions for the 1962 alumni fund.

"The purpose of this meeting will be to crystallize our thinking on these two subjects and to plan our approach," said Gremmels.

FROM THE EDITOR'S CHAIR

Communism – Worthwhile To Study?

What do you know about communism?

Ask any number of people on campus, "What is communism?" and you'll get all kinds of answers. Everyone seems to know all about it, especially the fact that it's bad and that we must fight against it.

But what do most Wartburg students really know about communism? Many have some type of vague idea about communist philosophy. Many heard Russian embassy official Ivan Azarov at a convo earlier this year and learned more about communism. But do students really know what they are supposed to be fighting against?

Unfortunately, many do not know the real dangers of communism. And unfortunately also, Wartburg College is not helping students to gain much of a knowledge of communism.

A political science course called "Communism and Democracy" is listed in the catalog but hasn't ever been offered in a regular term, according to Dr. Gerhard Ottersberg, head of the History Department. It was offered once in summer school.

The course will not be offered next semester, and there are no particular plans to offer it next year, according to the course instructor, G. Rudolph Bjorgan.

"The Lutheran Standard," official publication of the American Lutheran Church, in the Jan. 2 issue carried some interesting statements issued by the ALC's Commission on Research and Social Action on communism.

One of the statements was, "As Lutherans with a distinctive confessional position we accept Dr. Schwarz's (director of the Christian Anti-Communism Crusade) recommendation that Lutherans develop Lutheran programs to educate Lutherans on communism, to teach the relevance of Lutheran theological emphases to the claims that communism makes and to suggest courses of personal and congregational action compatible with Lutheran church polity."

Also according to the "Standard," the commission authorized publication of a study document written by its director, Dr. Carl F. Reuss, which says in part, "Christians should read, study and inform themselves reliably 'both on communism and on the organizations claiming to combat methods they use, and the effects they have on people and communities.' "

It seems reasonable then to assume that we, as Christians, should do something to learn about communism, which Dr. Reuss in his document calls "an atheistic religion that worships at the altar of 'scientific socialism.' " One of the best ways to learn about communism would be through a course on communism. But the student can't learn if he never has an opportunity (unless he studies communism on his own).

Philosophy instructor Dr. Clifford Hanson could present a good course on the philosophy of communism. Bjorgan would also present a good background in "Communism and Democracy." There are probably other faculty members who could qualify as being well informed on communism.

Many students would be interested with the recent emphasis on stemming the communists, who already control well over half of the world's three billion people.

The need seems to be present. The question is, "When should we start teaching about communism at Wartburg?"

Committee Lauded

Union parties became a reality at Wartburg this year, thanks to the Student Senate Activities Committee. The first Union party was so well attended and enjoyed that plans are now under way for such a party again next weekend.

This has been only one of the many social activities offered by the Student Senate again this year. In addition to sponsoring the movies in the Chapel auditorium, the Senate has once again sponsored I.M. sports, which have always created interest and enthusiasm among all those participating.

On the planning board at the present time is the promotion of an ice skating rink for the Wartburg student body. Along with the winter scene, the Student Senate is considering the promotion of a winter carnival, which certainly sounds like an enjoyable idea.

Not only has the Senate planned many entertaining evenings for the Wartburg students, but it has been in charge of purchasing additional lights and a microphone for the Little Theater and has purchased more records to be used at the Little Theater record dances.

When one sees all of these things mentioned in one list, it is easy to see that the Student Activities Committee of the Student Senate has been busy during this first semester. With this thought in mind, let's not forget the members of the committee when we are extending our thanks for making Wartburg a more lively place on weekends.

Don't forget to mention to your senator that you have enjoyed the activities. A personal word is always appreciated—a word of commendation and not always condemnation.

What Are Your Plans?

If you're planning to go to graduate school and want a scholarship, perhaps the Trumpet can help you. If you're looking for a summer job, maybe the Trumpet can help you. Or maybe you'd like to take a tour of Europe. The Trumpet might be able to help you do that, too.

Press releases, announcements, folders, posters and letters of all kinds come to the Trumpet in volumes, so that we can't possibly print all of this information although it might interest some students. Among the more important letters we received lately was the note below which might be of interest to seniors who plan to teach:

URGENTLY NEEDED

Thirty teachers to serve in New Guinea for two-year period on voluntary service basis. Teacher's certificate, elementary or secondary, required. All expenses paid. $150 special equipment allowance; $200 annual personal expense funds granted. New teams to be sent in July 1962.

Thirty-one teachers have already served in this program. Replacements must be sent.

If you are interested in any of the suggested opportunities, stop at the Trumpet office some afternoon. We have a basketful of material that you might find interesting to look over.

No need to worry about the Berlin problem. If they make that wall any bigger, there won't be any East Berlin — just wall.

After the recent events in India it's not unreasonable to assume that most of Portugal is wishing India and Premier Nehru would Goaway.

A semester examination reflects the futility of frustrated preparation.

Final Thoughts Appear To Assist In Survival

By Manny Brandt

Well, here we are, back in our secure little niches in the big happy family, safe from the outside world. Now that all are rested, we may turn our thoughts to females . . . er, ah, finals.

★ ★ ★ ★

Although the thought of finals may be a dark and foreboding thing for many freshmen, I've accumulated a few tips that may help them survive "Hell-Week":

Brandt

1. Pull an all-nighter before each test. You probably won't learn anything, but your instructors are sure to be impressed with your worn and haggard looks.

2. Make Nurse Bertha Meade your constant companion. (SLOW DOWN, RELAX, KEEP CALM).

3. Another practice that is almost fully guaranteed — steal tests.

4. Repeat 20 times each day: "This is all a horrible dream. Soon I'll wake up."

5. Sleep well, eat good (?), study hard, take pills.

You may have recently noticed a number of the students wearing their Wartburg sweatshirts inside out. This is because they are tired of hearing such statements as, "Wartburg — where or what is that?"

In fact, I was told by one student that in Minneapolis they thought it was a car club. However, I'm sure these misconceptions will soon be cleared up. Our own campus radio station, KWAR, puts forth nightly a favorable image of our school. Too bad no one is able to receive them.

Also, it is rumored that Wartburg's Public Relations Department is launching a massive new publicity campaign in which will be utilized "Madison Avenue"-type slogans such as, "Still using that greasy kid-stuff on your hair? Fine! Come to Wartburg."

★ ★ ★ ★

Speaking of Fuchs Lounge brings me to another point. In order to reduce the amount of activity which nightly occurs in said lounge, an idea was presented at a recent Senate meeting.

Why not buy old scrap auto bodies, equip them with heaters and old taxi meters and place them in convenient places around the campus? There! I guess that shows that student government has a mind of its own!

★ ★ ★ ★

In closing, the Motorcycle Club will meet at 1 a.m. on the mall tonight. After the chicken-run, a lecture entitled "Would Moses Ride a Harley?" will be given by Oz (Ramrod) Scofield. Tea and crumpets will be served.

Knights Lose Eighth; 3 Frosh Start

(INDIANOLA) — Wartburg took it on the chin for the eighth time this year as Simpson tripped the Knights 78-67 last night.

Coach Fred Jaspers juggled his line-up and started three freshmen along with veterans Bob Mueller and Dar Oehlerich. Another innovation was the use of a two-platoon system in the first half.

Knights Within Three

Wartburg was down 43-34 at halftime but rallied to come within three points, 51-48, with 14 minutes left in the last half. But then the Redmen pulled away.

Simpson didn't take command of the game until after eight minutes had passed in the first half. When the first five went out and the second unit came in, the Knights trailed by a lone point. Talented frosh guard Tom Hensley, who led Simpson with 24 points, then hit a fielder to give the Redmen a 16-14 margin, and they were never behind again.

Buenning Tops Scoring

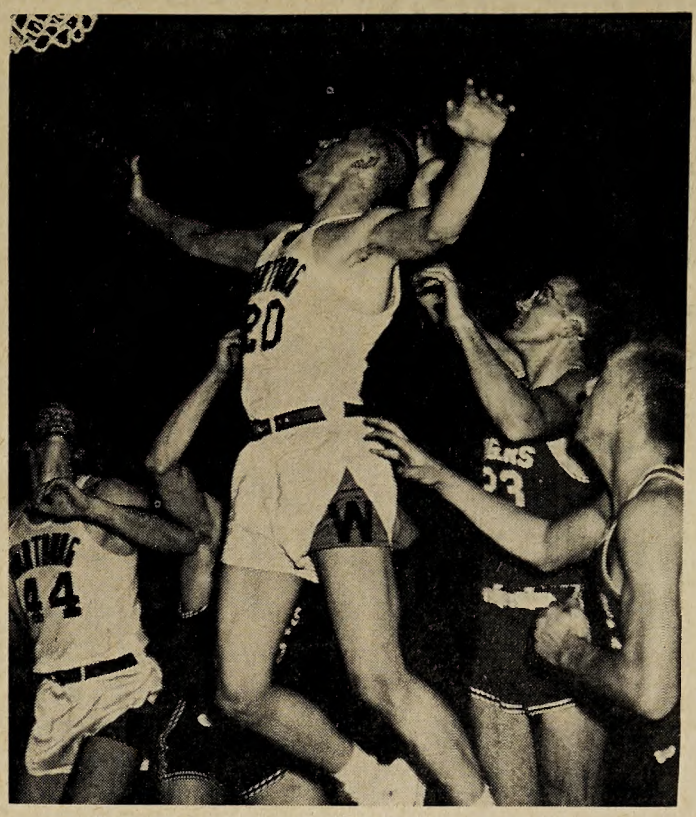
Sophomore Al Buenning paced Wartburg scoring with 13 points followed by Mueller with 11 and one of the frosh starters, Harold Shudlick, with 10. Freshmen Bob Nielsen and Dave Lange also started the contest, and another freshman, Paul Zietlow, also played quite a bit.

The loss gave the Knights a 3-8 season record and a 1-3 mark in the conference.

Frosh Lose, Too

With the top four frosh moved up to the varsity the Squires took their second season loss but put up a good battle. Grinnell frosh won the close game, 64-63.

Wartburg had the ball out-of-bounds with eight seconds left, lost the ball, regained possession after a missed Grinnell shot but still fell short when Mo Sathoff's lay-up did not count because it came just after the buzzer. Jerome Hemenway again led the Squires with 18 points while Jerry Schrader tallied 14.



"YEA, KNIGHTS!" SEEMS to be the cheer of senior forward Jim Borcherding as he goes up for a rebound. Knight Dave Brunscheen and three Wesleyan cagers wait for their chance.

The Knights travel to Pella tonight to face the Flying Dutchmen of Central.

Central thus far has compiled a record of two wins and five losses. In Iowa Conference play Central is 2-4.

Wartburg will be trying for its sixth straight victory over the Dutchmen. The Knights haven't lost to Central since their first meeting of the 1957-58 season.

Knights Renew Rivalry

Next Tuesday the traditional rivalry with the Luther Norsemen will be renewed. This game will not feature the usual powerhouse teams of the conference but promises to be the usual Knight-Norse ball game. Luther has a 1-8 overall record and is 1-3 in conference play.

During the past week and a half the Knights collected one win and one loss.

Loras Stumbles

The Knights defeated non-conference Loras 94-74 to open competition after the holiday break.

Last Saturday the Knights fell to the Tigers of Iowa Wesleyan 63-58 in a loosely played ball game. Senior Jim Borcherding connected for 17 points to lead the Knights.

Frosh Lose First But Bounce Back

Wartburg Squires started the new year with a setback to Loras but bounced back strong to trounce Marion D-X.

Loras was the first team to defeat the frosh in regular season play. Trailing by 12 at half, Coach John Kurtt's young squad wasn't able to regain all the lost ground and finished five behind, 74-69.

In last Saturday's preliminary game the first-year men completely outclassed Marion D-X, 90-70.

Little but quick Bob Nielsen led the frosh scoring for both contests, hitting 19 and 17, respectively. Dave Lange was second high scorer in both games, firing in 17 and 15 points. Jerome Hemenway and Harold Shudlick also scored in the double digits in the two games.

Basketball Lacks Punch; Three Frosh Move Up

By Paul Baumgarten

Basketball after the Christmas break seems to have taken on a rather dismal note, as the Knights have posted a 1-3 record thus far, excluding last night's action.

The Tall Corn Tourney started matters out on a bad note by pitting Wartburg against big powerful teams from SCI, Illinois Normal and Cornell. As a result, the outcome, two 20-point losses, was not very surprising.

Baumgarten

Things perked up a bit with the defeat of Loras, but even at the end of that contest the lack of consistent scoring punch, which could have easily made another 100-pointer, was lacking. This almost seemed to carry over to the Wesleyan contest earlier this week, when one of the prime factors in the Knight defeat was the poor shooting percentage.

Coach Jaspers said that he felt that the team had played a good floor game despite the poor shooting. He emphasized the fact that the team appreciated the good student support and hoped it would keep at its present high level.

Another voice was heard on the same subject this week. Dave Olson, another member of the coaching staff, was brought out that the principal voices heard were those of the female section of the crowd.

Men! We have been the dominant noisy sex ever since our cave (or monkey?) ancestry. Let's not let the Wartburg women completely destroy our identity.

Other note of interest on the basketball scene: Three freshmen have been permanently moved up to the varsity. They are Harold Shudlick, Dave Lange and Bob Nielsen. After the second semester begins, the squad will receive further help from returning letterman John Mehlhaus, who has been out of school for several years.

In a flashback to football — head mentor Norm Johansen attended the NCAA meeting in Chicago last week. In connection with this he also went to sessions of the National Football Coaches' Association. One of the main items of business there was the election of coach of the year.

In this next part of the page I planned to start a campaign for the serving of beer in the cafeteria. But since that would be cut and I have no more to say anyway, I will console you with one more thought: There are only 87 more days until the opening of the baseball season.

IM Cagemen Open Action In 8 Games

Eight games were played this week as the intramural basketball season got under way.

In the American League there were four games played Tuesday night.

Two Teams Squeeze Out

Despite a 29-point performance by Robert Brown, Married Men defeated Off-campus C, 61-57. Grossmann III squeezed by Clinton II by a score of 50-48. High scorer of the game was John McKee of Clinton II with 18 points.

Alpha-Ketha handed Faculty a decisive loss, 50-33. Ted Kalkwarf, Alpha-Ketha, led the scoring with 14. Led by Barry Greene's 24 points, Off-campus B gave North Hall A its first loss of the season, 72-56.

Nationals Play Thursday

National League action took place Thursday night. Clinton Basement trounced Clinton III, 57-25. Clinton Basement had the high scorer of the game in Duane Huth, who dropped in 13 points.

Clinton I, led by Gerald Baldner's 26 points, topped the Off-campus D team, 62-48. Gary Schwandt tied Baldner for scoring honors, as he also scored 26. Orv McElfresh scored 18 points and led the Vollmer team to a 65-39 victory over Off-campus A.

With Gary Leeper scoring 33 points to lead the way, North Hall B romped to a one-sided 95-44 victory over Grossmann I. Leeper's 33 points made him the high scorer of the week in either league.

5 Trips Set For Debate

Five more trips will be taken by members of the college debate squad this year.

Campus Activities Slack As Semester Nears End

By Louise Loots

So, you think this is a bad winter. Wait until you hear about the one we had back in '12. That was really a whopper!

Where can you hear about it? At the County Home every Wednesday night. Come on out. They would love to tell you all about it.

Louise

You're going? Fine! See you at the south entrance to the Union at 6:30.

Are you tired of hearing, "With semesters coming up, you better start to hit those books." Would you rather "Hit the Deck" instead? Then why not attend the campus movie tonight? Starring Jane Powell, Tony Martin, Debbie Reynolds and Walter Pidgeon, it's the story of three sailors on shore leave. The show will begin at 7:30 in the Chapel-auditorium.

Of interest to almost every girl will be the Pi Sigma meeting on Wednesday night in Centennial Lounge. The program, which will begin at 7, will center around a display of china and place settings. All girls are urged to attend this meeting.

One more item — a rather insignificant one: Next Friday is advising day. This is the day when you can seek suggestions on how to read all your assignments since midsemesters, do some outside readings and memorize the notes from each of your classes — all in one night.

I almost forgot. With 13 days of the new year past already, I thought it was about time I made some resolutions. So here they are in their pure and fresh form:

1. Not to complain about the icicles on my bed. They're sure to melt by spring.

2. Not to get disturbed if a pond develops under my radiator next spring. I always thought it would be nice if Wartburg had an indoor swimming pool.

3. Not to get all bothered if I have four semester tests in one day. I shouldn't place too much emphasis on grades, you know.

4. Not to mind if all the courses I want to take next semester are scheduled for the same hour. Conflict strengthens one — sometimes.

5. Not to worry about the 21 hours I have to take next semester in order to get all my required courses in. In order to get something done, you have to have something to do.

Which reminds me, I have a test or two (maybe three) to study for. Cheerio.
